GALAXY CLASS NEWS

This term in class we have started a new topic called "Around the world." Our new sensory story and wall display is based on the book The Snail and the Whale by Julia Donaldson. A story about a sea snail who travels around the world with a whale, and their adventures. The learners made hand print crabs and a parrot for the wall display and there are many sensory elements on the display for them to explore, like real sea shells and a sensory whale and snail.

Everyone in class has enjoyed our sensory story of The Snail and the Whale. Ollie enjoyed exploring the whale prop, Percy liked the ringing of the school bell and Kuba liked exploring the rock the sea snails live on. It's been particularly nice over the past couple of weeks, as it features lots of water play and being sprayed, which has been great in the heat!

Last but not least, we thought we would give you an update on the flowers we started growing a while ago. They are absolutely thriving and have now taken over the whole flower box! This is Galaxy Class's last newsletter of the school year, so have a great summer everyone, just a few more weeks to go!
